Good morning,

I will send him a property release form. He will need to indicate who he wants the property sent to. They will not just give it to him. Can you provide me with the name and address of who will receive his belongings? I emailed the facility asking whether they need anything else. I will keep you posted re their response.

He knows the agents took his computer and phone. Of course they are not at the jail; they are being examined as part of the evidence. The only things at the jail are whatever he was wearing when he got arrested. They will not give me his things. He needs to pick them up himself. He knows all of this.

sorry so late
he is in Oklahoma. in county jail. no room in federal.
he would like you to arrange for his personal things to be sent or at least picked up they told him he was going to court and put him on plane. Marshall told him that hid federal defender would take care of his belongings Andrew is hoping he gets to NY tomorrow. what a mess!!
thank you

He'll get his computer back when the case is over. His computer is considered evidence and the government has it. They will make him a copy and give it to his lawyer. He knows ALL of this because he's asked me about it every time we talk. I'll try and set up another call for this week. I understand the frustration, but at this point he's just asking the same questions over and over again.

No worries, really. I understand everyone is frustrated. The jail finally confirmed the call for tomorrow at 9 am. I'll speak with Andrew then.
